LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 1, 1914.

To His Excellency, LOCKE CRAIG,

Governor.

SIR:—As required by law, I have the honor to submit the following report of the Department of Labor and Printing for 1914, the same being the Twenty-eighth Annual Report.

As is also required by law, I beg to offer the following suggestions, and recommend that the laws now on the statute-books bearing on the subjects be amended so as to put into practice the principles which it is my belief were intended to be forwarded when this division of the State Government was created. I can do no better, I believe, than to repeat what was said in this report for 1912, notwithstanding there was an amended labor law passed at the session of 1913. As has been the case with former proposed laws, it was emasculated in committee, and, therefore, has failed to produce the results intended by its author.

Compared to the laws of other States, the laws of North Carolina relating to industrial subjects indicate a very limited amount of attention and interest in this important general subject. While it may be said that with few exceptions conditions do not call for extensive enactment of laws along this line, a close study will show that too much laxity exists here. In a broad sense, it should be our purpose to look continually to the uplift of our working population, both as an economic and a humane principle, and to prevent, as far as we may do so, the deterioration of character that is so often shown when young boys leave the home and accept employment that brings them in contact with the vagrant element that so assiduously infests public places. The young girl employee is also entitled to protection and restrictive measures—protection from men of the masher type, and restriction in hours of employment, that she may be less exposed to advances and temptations from street loafers and others. One preventive measure is worth a whole book of correctives, and is more effective.

1. The passage of a specific ten-hour day and sixty-hour week law. The law as enacted by the Legislature of 1911 has proven unsatisfactory and insufficient.

2. A specific age limit prohibiting children under 13 years from working in any kind of manufacturing establishment, or in messenger service, or appearance in theaters in any capacity (excepting, of course, attendance as auditors); or in any employment whatsoever during the hours in which the public schools are in session.

3. That all manufacturing and other concerns of whatever kind, addressed by the Department of Labor and Printing for information for use in the compilation of its report, be required to answer promptly to the best of their knowledge and belief.

4. That the law designating the Commissioner of Labor and Printing Inspector of Mines be repealed, unless appropriation sufficient to put the present law into practice is made. This would include the services of an active inspector—preferably, if not essentially, a graduate of a school of mining.

5. Laws governing safety appliances and sanitation.

6. The passage of a law providing for inspection of factories and workshops, of whatever kind, to the end that the child-labor law, the limited hours law, the fire-escape law, and such laws of sanitation and safety as the Legislature may see fit to enact, may be enforced; such inspectors to act as statistical or census agents for this Department.

Bearing especially upon the hours of labor and the inspection provision above referred to, I am constrained to believe that so long as the lack of confidence between the advocates of restrictive and corrective measures and the manufacturers continue to exist, there is small hope for either side of the controversy bringing in a satisfactory bill. As it appears to this Department, it is too much a game of hare and hounds, and the time has come for some member of the General Assembly, who is an independent thinker, and one who has the courage of his convictions, to draft a bill that will take care of the situation.

I do not wish to be understood as taking sides on the proposition. This Department interprets its duties as covering the enforcement of whatever laws may be passed as far as the authority vested in it will permit; but, at the same time, it feels that it should guard the rights of the manufacturers as zealously as it should the rights of the employees. This is a time for mutual effort, and not a time for mistrust to be allowed to obstruct the State's march of progress.

I am, sir,

Faithfully yours,

M. L. SHIPMAN,
Commissioner.

GEO. B. JUSTICE,
Assistant Commissioner.

CHAPTER I.

INTRODUCTORY.

In submitting this, the Twenty-eighth Annual Report of the Department of Labor and Printing, it has seemed that no better could be done than to follow the lines adopted when the present personnel took up the work. Wherever possible, the scope has been extended, but there are no differences in form from the Twenty-seventh Report.

It has not been thought necessary, after citing the numerous figures appearing in the tables, to further enlarge the summaries preceding each set of tables. Any information in the possession of this Department is shown by the tables in such manner as to be readily acquired by interested parties.

There have been numerous calls upon the office for lists of names of certain classes of industries. Manifestly the Department cannot furnish lists of any kind, other than shown by the report. The Commissioner does not consider it fair to correspondents to give out lists; also, it would be unfair to supply these lists to one person and deny them to another. It can readily be seen that the Department could not make a practice of furnishing lists for advertising purposes, and must, therefore, decline to issue lists of any kind under any circumstances. The report is free and will be furnished to applicants as long as the supply lasts. Back numbers of the report cannot be furnished, except in a few cases where the issue has not been exhausted. At the same time, the Department will use every effort to make plain any points about the work that may not be exactly clear, and to put inquirers in the way of securing information on any subject which any State report covers. Persons uncertain as to where information bearing on a specific subject may be obtained are invited to write their wants. If the Department can put them in communication with the proper authorities, it will be a pleasure to do so.

The subjects covered may be found in the Index, with citations to the pages covering same.

Chapter II, Condition of Farmers, shows, in Table I, conditions of farm and labor, employment, trend of cost of living. Table II covers question of tendency toward diversification of crops, and improvement in method of cultivation, wages and financial condition of laborers. Table III shows cost of production of various farm products. Table IV shows condition of roads, education, religion and morals, and general trend of each.

Chapter III, The Trades, shows, in Table I, prevalence of labor organization, wages by trades, method of payment, and increase or decrease of wages. Table II shows unit of working time, period of payment, permanency of employment, cost of living. Table III shows hours constituting day's work; wage-earners' idea of what should constitute day's work; per cent of literacy. Table IV, shows period of apprenticeship, improvement in education, moral and financial conditions.

Chapter IV, Miscellaneous Factories. Under this head are treated the establishments not falling under specific heads, that is to say, all manufacturing plants which do not show any one division of industry sufficiently large to require separate treatment. It is not our purpose to enumerate herein sawmills, gristmills, or cotton gins, except as the magnitude of a single mill would seem to place it in the class of factory; grinding mills are classed as factories when they buy corn and wheat and sell flour, meal or grits, but are not classed as factories when they grind for toll and sell no other product beyond toll earned. Sawmills doing a general lumber business are classed as factories, while small mills, doing only a local business, are not. Not that we should not be glad to enumerate these concerns in our report, but because we have found it absolutely impossible to secure a list of these small concerns; besides, many of them are temporary, and many change ownership and location so frequently as to make reliability of reports sent out not dependable. At the same time, it has not been possible to secure the names of all the large concerns doing business in the State, under the present law, which does not make it obligatory upon manufacturers to report. Table I shows factories by counties, name of president and secretary or treasurer, article manufactured, capital, when established, and estimated value of plant. Table II shows value of output, time in operation, hours constituting day's work, kind of power used, number of horsepower, number of employees, classified; condition of labor market, per cent of literacy among employees. Table III shows wages, when paid, increase or decrease, prevalence of union labor, improvement of employees in financial condition and general proficiency.

Chapter V, Cotton, Woolen, and Silk Mills. Table I shows mills by counties, executive officers, year established, capital stock, name of selling agent, and whether mill spins or weaves, or both. Table II shows class of goods made, number spindles, number looms, number cards, kind of power used, horsepower, approximate amount of raw material used, progress of employees. Table III shows number of employees, classified; hours, wages, and when paid, per cent of literacy, persons dependent on operation of factory for livelihood, observance of labor laws. The Knitting Mills form a subchapter here; the tables cover practically the same subjects.

Chapter VII, Furniture Factories. Table I shows factories by counties, name of president, goods manufactured, year incorporated, capital stock, kind of power used, number of horsepower. Tables II and III show number of days in operation during year, hours constituting day's work, number dependent on factory, wages, per cent of literacy, estimated value of plant, estimated annual output.

Chapter VIII, Newspapers. Summary shows classification by period of publication and politics, and total circulation of each class. Table I shows list of papers by counties, how published, editor and proprietor. Table II shows day of publication, class, date of establishment and circulation. Table III shows number of employees, wages, etc.

Chapter IX, Railroads and Employees. Shows alphabetical list of roads, number of officers and employees, by classes and wages.

Where the term "children" is used with reference to division of class of laborers, it is intended to mean persons under sixteen years of age.

APPENDIX.

In this division of the report we have grouped all other information properly bearing on the subjects covered in the pages preceding it. Results of investigations for ten years past; supply and distribution of cotton; spindles and consumption of raw cotton; production and consumption of cotton by years, with average price; synopsis of the labor laws of North Carolina; classification of industries.

It is hoped that recipients will carefully study the information offered when in search of specific facts. The Department is prevented from broadening and enlarging the volume only by lack of leverage for securing information.

CHAPTER II.

FARMING CONDITIONS.

The crop year of 1914 has been similar to that of the years 1911 and 1912, and somewhat in 1913, in that there was experienced a period of small rainfall during the early growing season, which curtailed especially the early products, and no doubt diminished the growth and productivity of the later ones. But taken all in all, the effect was much less than was feared. This may be attributed in some measure to the continued spread of the practice of flat cultivation.

There has been a ready sale of most of the farmers' products, at profitable prices. This, however, does not apply to cotton. It may also be well to except tobacco, which, while selling readily and at fair prices, has not brought, according to the information at hand at this writing (October 15) quite as satisfactory prices as last year.

The cotton situation presents, on account of the effect of the European War, a particularly complex condition. The outcome is doubtful, and bids fair to become so many-sided as to entirely annihilate a standard of commercial values, to be replaced by one of sentiment, that, as seen from this point, will be anything but of a permanently helpful nature. The movement to purchase cotton at 10 cents a pound, followed out by as many firms and individuals as are likely to take it up, will not be of such magnitude as to relieve the oversupply. What can be stored will be, and what must be thrown on the market will bring just what it would have brought had none been taken off, none of the cotton having been used.

Buyers are chary of stocking cotton when the visible supply so far exceeds the demand that wants may be filled at any time, at a price not to exceed 10 cents a pound at the outside. It is highly probable that the cotton forced to sale will take care of the needs of the country anyway. The exports are not to be looked to for relief. Even should the war end at once, the conditions which would prevail in all the countries affected would be such as to preclude their catching up with the excess caused by the cessation of consumption for the period already past.

On the other hand, what cotton is bought up at 10 cents will result, as seen from this angle, in destroying the wholesome lesson that seemed about to be brought home to the Southern farmer. Absolute master of the situation as he might have been, he has continuously allowed the speculator to take from him his privilege, and accepted in its stead a dependency of the speculator's own creation, which could not, by any manner of means, be expected to be made with a view to the farmer's welfare and profit.

Now, when he has had the facts in the case brought so plainly before him, and has the opportunity, by a season of self-denial, to take control of the situation, he is about to again forego his opportunity for the sake of the immediate difference in price on a limited number of bales, i. e., whatever number of bales can be sold at 10 cents a pound to persons who are taking it up at 10 cents, some for advertising purposes, some for truly helpful purposes, and some in the belief that the price will go to 10 cents or more. When it is a fact that cotton can be raised and sold for 10 cents a pound at a profit, just as many farmers as succeed in disposing of their crop at that price will continue to raise as much of it as they can, believing that whether the market will take care of it at that price or not, something else will turn up that will. From this general statement may be excepted that class of producer who is foresighted enough to raise other products sufficient to be able to hold his cotton if the price offered is not satisfactory to him.

If forced to pocket a loss this year, the result would be to cause the producers to take steps looking to protecting themselves, instead of looking to State or National authorities for relief, or to the bankers, who have shown clearly that they will not put up the money necessary to warehouse the crop, except upon such terms as will not only guarantee to save them free from any possible loss, but pay them a profit as well. It is unnecessary to say that were the farmer able to do this to the satisfaction of the banker, he (the farmer) would have found no need to call for assistance in the first place. All of which leads back to the beginning, where it may be seen, as at first, that the farmer is best able to take care of himself—by diversification of crops and the producing of all supplies at home—and to dictate, not only the price of cotton, but of other products as well.

Reports of cost of production for three years show the following figures:

Cost to raise bale of cotton: 1912, \$33.70; 1913, \$34.23; 1914, \$35.61; average for three years, \$34.51 $\frac{1}{3}$. Bushel of wheat: 1912, 73 cents; 1913, 71 cents; 1914, 70 cents; average for three years, 71.3 cents. Bushel of corn: 1912, 53 cents; 1913, 50 cents; 1914, 52 cents; average for three years, 51.7 cents.

SUMMARY.

Figures relative to 1914 are as follows:

Table No. 1 shows an increase in the value of land in eighty-eight counties, and no change in twelve. Fertility of land is reported maintained in ninety-five counties; five report that it is not maintained. Nine counties report a tendency to have larger farms; ninety smaller; one no change. Ninety-eight counties report labor scarce; two plentiful. Twenty-one counties report employment regular; seventy-nine irregular.

Table No. 2 shows the average wages paid. Highest average paid men, $1.18 per day, an increase of 4 cents over last year; lowest, 74 cents per day, an increase of 3 cents over last year. Highest average paid women, 74 cents per day, an increase of 4 cents over last year; lowest, 48 cents per day, an increase of 2 cents over last year. Average wages of children, 41 cents per day. Fifty-seven counties report increase in wages; forty-three no change.

Table No. 3 shows that sixty-eight counties produce cotton at $35.61 per bale of 500 pounds; thirty-two do not report. Seventy-seven counties produce wheat at a cost of 70 cents per bushel; twenty-three counties do not report wheat. All the counties produce corn, at a cost of 52 cents per bushel. Ninety-three counties produce oats, at 35 cents per bushel; seven counties do not report oats. Sixty-one counties produce tobacco at $9 per 100 pounds; thirty-nine counties do not report tobacco. CHAPTER III.

THE TRADES.

Conditions of employment have been of a very satisfactory nature during the past year. Lack of opportunity has not been responsible for any noticeable amount of idleness. Skilled labor and farm labor have been in demand. There is and has been considerable difficulty in securing satisfactory domestic servants. The need of responsible employment bureaus is felt from time to time, but the Department has hesitated to encourage anything along that line on account of the great opportunity for fraud. It is noticeable that there is a constant demand for the better workmen in the trades. This is the class of man that gets the price that makes the average as high as it is, and the one who is last to feel the effect of depression in the trades.

It is a matter of much regret that there are not more schools for manual training in operation in the State. There are a few of these in the city schools, probably half a dozen, all told, in addition to the State institutions, which are by no means sufficient to take care of the demand.

Wages show a small average increase over last year. The cost of living also shows an increase, but it is believed that this is the result of the increased cost of doing business—deliveries, etc., and the fact that there are constantly being added numbers of hands through which the commodities must pass between producer and consumer. It is probable that the standard of living is being raised among the wage-earners, which would account in some measure for the increase in cost.

CHAPTER IV.

MISCELLANEOUS FACTORIES.

The division of establishments treated under this head includes manufacturing enterprises that are not treated under Cotton, Woolen, Silk, and Knitting Mills, or Furniture Factories.

As has been the case in former years, the manufacturing situation shows a steady advance. Up to the end of the period covered by the reports received, June 30, 1914, no untoward conditions have affected the industries covered. While sales have not been below a normal level, it is also noticeable that there has been no abnormal demand. As it appears to the Department officials, this is a condition much more desirable than one which ranges from one extreme to the other, and makes for a growth consistent with the development of the entire State. It would be, of course, a desirable condition if the State's manufacturing industry was of a greater magnitude; but taken as a whole, the showing made is of a very satisfactory nature.

The information received brings to mind great opportunities along various lines that are open to development in the State. Most of the products shown in the industries using wood show that only the larger articles are manufactured, leaving necessarily a large amount of short and small pieces of material which might very profitably be used in the manufacture of small articles of general use. The same general rule applies to truck and vegetables. Much of this class of food, late in the seasons, is shipped at low returns, which could more profitably be canned at shipping points.

The total number of miscellaneous factories reporting to the Department for the year ending June 30, 1914, is 755.

Aggregate capital reported by 639 factories, $88,811,810. Six hundred and forty-nine factories report the estimated value of plants to be $20,738,301. Six hundred and forty factories report the output to be $97,062,107. Six hundred and fifty-three factories report a pay-roll of $14,601,563.

Seven hundred and twenty-three factories report power used as follows: Steam, 419; electric, 186; water, 21; hand, 19; gasoline, 26; steam and electric, 29; steam and gasoline, 2; steam and water, 2; steam and gas, 2; gas, 4; steam and oil, 1; electric and gasoline, 1; kerosene, 1. These establishments, exclusive of the 19 using hand power, show the employment of 88,590½ horsepower. The average hours worked per day, 10 hours and 5 minutes.

Three hundred and eighty-four factories report increase of wages; two hundred and eighty report no change; six report decrease. Five hundred and nine factories pay wages weekly; fifty-seven monthly; one hundred and fifteen semimonthly; two daily; one semiweekly; six weekly and monthly; six on demand; one toll.

Seven hundred and five factories report 38,655 persons employed. This number is made up of 31,134 males; 5,588 females; 1,933 children. Highest average wages per day: males, $2.92; females, $1.47. Lowest average wages: males, $1.06; females, 86 cents. Eighty-six per cent of adult employees read and write; ninety-five and one-half per cent of children. Three hundred and four factories report improvement in financial condition of employees; two hundred and ninety-two no improvement.

Two hundred and eighty-seven factories report improvement in general proficiency of employees; two hundred and seventy-four no improvement.

In the Appendix will be found a list of the factories, classified and alphabetized, which it is hoped will be of benefit to parties who are looking for a specific article or a certain factory. In no sense is this list offered as a directory; the purpose is not to offer a directory, but a résumé of conditions of the laborers and of the trades. If there is information of a general character desired, and parties desiring same will address this office, pleasure will be taken in the furnishing of anything that may be properly classified under the heads that this Department may be supposed to cover. Inquiries are invited on questions which may fairly be assumed to be in our line.

In the tables will be found the detailed information from which the foregoing summary of conditions is made.

CHAPTER VI.

KNITTING MILLS.

The knitting industry of the State is one that shows an especially gratifying growth, as indicated in the reports to this Department for the year. It is noticeable as applying both to the spinning and weaving and the knitting ends of the business that there is a steady development toward the higher grades of goods. This is evidenced by the fact that the value of product shows a decided advance when compared to the amount of raw material used. It is also a matter of note that many local dealers are featuring home-made knit goods, which appear to be the equal of any goods from other sections of the country. The raw cotton consumption of the mills in the State has now reached a point where it is about equal to the cotton produced. Left free from outside influences, it would not take long for the North Carolina staple to find its price level, based on commercial value, without regard to the machinations of the speculator.

Seventy-eight knitting mills are reported for 1914. Fifty-six of these show capital stock of $4,762,196. The approximate amount of raw material used, by forty-seven mills, is 16,879,172 pounds. The estimated value of yearly output by forty-nine mills is $7,771,080.45. The number of spindles in use in these mills is given as 144,840; knitting machines, 10,760; sewing machines, 1,000; cards, 572; making use of 20,163 horsepower. Thirteen do not report horsepower.

Twenty-eight mills use steam for power; thirty-six use electricity; two, gasoline; two, steam and electric; two, water; one, steam and water; two, kerosene; four do not report power used.

Number of employees reported is 8,227; 2,671 males, 4,774 females, and 1,032 children. There are 19,834 persons dependent on the operations of these mills for a livelihood.

Wages are as follows: High average, males, $2.72; low average, $1.06. High average, females, $1.76; low average, 73 cents. The average per cent who read and write, 97.

Employees of thirty-five mills are paid weekly; twenty-eight mills, semimonthly; one, monthly; one, on demand; three mills do not report. The average number of hours worked per day, 9 and 55 minutes.

CHAPTER VIII.

NEWSPAPERS AND PERIODICALS.

Publications in North Carolina, both newspapers and periodicals, show a substantial growth for the past year. The increase in publications has been 32 in number, making a total of 325, and the combined circulation exceeds that of last year by more than 125,000 copies. There is a movement toward a higher class of publications from year to year, and also an advance in subscription rates, with a noticeable tendency to place subscriptions on a cash basis. The weeklies have been forced, by the increased cost of production, in a number of cases to raise the subscription price from $1 to $1.50 per year. This suggestion, in the main, applies to the eight-page all home print weeklies, which are making rapid advances in mechanical construction and in providing facilities for collecting and presenting the news of their respective communities. The dailies have, in some instances, and for similar reasons, been compelled to advance their subscription rates also. Five of the ten morning dailies are published every day in the week, thus showing a desire to keep pace with the progress of the times. At the present time the newspaper business appears to be in a satisfactory condition, and, as the reports have indicated, has been progressing steadily the past several years.

The value of plants reported by 201 papers is \$1,361,333; seventy-nine employ typesetting machines, and there are 134 of these machines now in use by the newspapers of the State. The number of employees reported by 204 papers is 1,416; one hundred and eighty-three of these estimate yearly pay roll to be \$739,723. Highest average wages given, \$2.71; lowest average, 95 cents. Average number of hours constituting a day's work, $9\frac{1}{2}$. Electric, gas, and gasoline predominate as motive power. In most instances only small motors, or engines, are required, and the aggregate number of horsepower employed is not large, in comparison with an equal number of concerns engaged in the manufacturing industry. In the tables following will be found a list of all the publications reporting; names of the editors and proprietors, postoffice address, day of publication, year of establishment, class of publication, and reported circulation of each. The summary preceding these shows the number and class of publications, together with the combined circulation of each class, and progress made during the past year.

ACCIDENTS IN MINES.

There was reported to the Department for the past year only one fatal accident. This occurred in the Coggins Mine at Eldorado, Montgomery County, on January 15, 1914, and cost the lives of three men. An investigation was conducted by the Assistant Commissioner, whose findings are as follows:

The three men killed, Charles Cranford, Cornelius Klass, and Walter Sanders, were coming up from work in the skip, or hoisting bucket. When a little more than halfway up, there was some hitch in the track on which the skip ran by which it was turned upside down and the three men were dumped into the skip chute and fell or slid to the bottom of the mine, a distance of about 165 feet. The men were dead when reached. There was a rule that forbade riding in the skip. This seemed not to be enforced. The men examined testified to the existence of the rule. An examination showed the skip and hoisting machinery to be in good order. So far as could be seen, there had been no changes or repairs made on the skip. No cause for the upsetting of the bucket could be found. In fact, no means whereby the bucket might be upset were visible. Depositions were taken from the other men in the mine, from the hoisting engineer, the foreman, and the superintendent. Nothing in the depositions or in the condition of the machinery showed negligence on the part of the operators.

APPENDIX.

It is the purpose, in this division of this report, to furnish such information, relative to the general subjects treated in former chapters, as seems to be desirable, which are yet of such diverse nature as to be impracticable of handling under those heads. The reception accorded this addition to the report has justified its continuation.

No minor under twelve years of age shall be allowed to work in any mine, and in all cases of minors applying for work the agent of such mine shall see that the provisions of this section are not violated; and the inspector may, when doubt exists as to the age of any person found working in any mine, examine under oath such person and his parents, or other witnesses, as to his age.

SEC. 4932. The owner, agent, or operator of every coal mine shall keep a supply of timber constantly on hand, and shall deliver the same to the working place of the miner, and no miner shall be held responsible for accident which may occur in the mine where the provisions of this section have not been complied with by the owner, agent, or operator thereof, resulting directly or indirectly from the failure to deliver such timber.

SEC. 4933. All underground entrances to any place not in actual course of working or extension shall be properly fenced across the whole width of such entrance so as to prevent persons from inadvertently entering the same.

SEC. 4934. No owner or agent of any coal mine worked by shaft shall permit any person to work therein unless there are, to every seam of coal worked in such mine, at least two separate outlets, separated by natural strata of not less than one hundred feet in breadth, by which shafts or outlets distinct means of ingress and egress are always available to the persons employed in the mine; but it is not necessary for the two outlets to belong to the same mine if the persons employed therein have safe, ready, and available means of ingress and egress by not less than two openings. This section shall not apply to opening a new mine while being worked for the purpose of making communications between said two outlets, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed at one time in such mine; neither shall it apply to any mine or part of a mine in which the second outlet has been rendered unavailable by reason of the final robbing of pillars previous to abandonment, as long as not more than twenty persons are employed therein at any one time. The cage or cages and other means of egress shall at all times be available for the persons employed when there is no second outlet. The escapement shafts shall be fitted with safe and available appliances, which shall always be kept in a safe condition, by which the persons employed in the mine may readily escape in case an accident occurs; and in no case shall an air shaft with a ventilating furnace at the bottom be construed to be an escapement shaft within the meaning of this section.

To all other coal mines, whether slopes or drifts, two such openings or outlets must be provided within twelve months after shipments of coal have commenced from such mine; and in case such outlets are not provided as herein stipulated, it shall not be lawful for the agent or owner of such slope or drift to permit more than ten persons to work therein at any one time.

SEC. 4935. No owner or agent of any mine operated by a shaft or slope shall place in charge of any engine used for lowering into or hoisting out of mines persons employed therein any but experienced, competent, and sober engineers, and no engineer in charge of such engine shall allow any person except such as may be deputed for such purposes by the owner or agent, to interfere with it or any part of the machinery, and no person shall interfere or in any way intimidate the engineer in the discharge of his duties, and in no case shall more than two men ride on any cage or car at one time, and no person shall ride upon a loaded cage or car in any shaft or slope.

SEC. 4936. The owner or agent of any coal mine, whether shaft, slope, or drift, shall provide and maintain for every such mine an amount of ventilation of not less than one hundred cubic feet per minute per person employed in such mine, which shall be circulated and distributed throughout the mine in such a manner as to dilute, render harmless and expel the poisonous and noxious gases from each and every working place in the mine, and no working place shall be driven more than sixty feet in advance of a break-through or airway, and all break-throughs or airways, except those last made near the working places of the mine, shall be closed up by brattice trap doors, or otherwise, so that the currents of air in circulation in the mine may spread to the interior of the mine when the persons employed in such mine are at work; and all mines governed by this chapter shall be provided with artificial means of producing ventilation, such as forcing or suction fans, exhaust steam furnaces, or other contrivances of such capacity and power as to produce and maintain an abundant supply of air, and all mines generating fire damp shall be kept free from standing gas.

SEC. 4937. Every working place shall be examined every morning with a safety lamp by a competent person before any of the workmen are allowed to enter the mine. All safety lamps used in examining mines, or for working therein, shall be the property of the operator of the mine, and a competent person shall be appointed, who shall examine every safety lamp before it is taken into the workings for use, and ascertain it to be clean, safe, and securely locked, and safety lamps shall not be used until they have been so examined and found safe and clean and securely locked, unless permission be first given by the mine foreman to have the lamps used unlocked. No one except the duly authorized person shall have in his possession a key or any other contrivance for the purpose of unlocking any safety lamp in any mine where locked lamps are used. No matches or any other apparatus for striking lights shall be taken into any mines, or parts thereof, except under the direction of the mine foreman.

SEC. 4938. The mine foreman shall measure the ventilation at least once a week, at the inlet and outlet, and also at or near the face of all the entries, and the measurement of air so made shall be noted on blanks furnished by the inspector; and on the first day of each month the mine boss of each mine shall sign one of such blanks, properly filled with the said actual measurement, and present the same to the inspector.

SEC. 4939. The owner, agent, or manager of any mine shall give notice to the inspector in the following cases: 1. Where any working is commenced for the purpose of opening a new shaft, slope, or mine to which this chapter applies. 2. When any mine is abandoned, or the working thereof discontinued. 3. When the working of any mine is recommenced after an abandonment or discontinuance for a period exceeding three months. 4. When a squeeze or crush, or any other cause or change may seem to affect the safety of persons employed in the mine, or when fire occurs.

SEC. 3940. The owner, agent, or manager of every mine shall, within twenty-four hours next after any accident or explosion, whereby loss of life or personal injury may have been occasioned, send notice, in writing, by mail or otherwise, to the inspector, and shall specify in such notice the character and cause of the accident, and the name or names of the persons killed and injured, with the extent and nature of the injuries sustained. When any personal injury of which notice is required to be sent under this section results in the death of the person injured, notice in writing shall be sent to the inspector within twenty-four hours after such death comes to the knowledge of the owner, agent, or manager; and when loss of life occurs in any mine by explosion, or accident, or results from personal injury so received, the owner, agent, or manager of such mine shall notify the coroner of the county in which such mine is situated, and the coroner shall hold an inquest upon the body of the person whose death has been caused, and inquire carefully into the cause thereof, and return a copy of the finding of the jury and all the testimony to the inspector.

SEC. 4941. The owner, lessee, or agent in charge of any mine, any limestone quarry, or who is engaged in mining or producing any mineral whatsoever in this State, shall, on or before the thirtieth day of November in every year, send to the office of the inspector, upon blanks to be furnished by him, a correct return, specifying with respect to the year ending on the preceding first day of October the quantity of coal, iron ore, fire clay, limestone, or other mineral product of such mine or quarry, and the number of persons ordinarily employed in or about such mine or quarry below and above ground, distinguishing the persons and labor below ground and above ground.

SEC. 4942. For any injury to person or property occasioned by any willful violation of this chapter, or any willful failure to comply with its provisions, by any owner, agent, or manager of the mine, a right of action shall accrue to the party injured for any damage he may have sustained thereby; and in any case of loss of life by reason of such willful neglect or failure aforesaid, a right of action shall accrue to the personal representative of the deceased, as in other actions for wrongful death.

SEC. 4943. The Commissioner of Labor and Printing shall perform the duties of mine inspector as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 4944. It shall be the duty of the inspector to examine all the mines in the State as often as possible to see that all the provisions and requirements of this chapter are strictly observed and carried out; he shall particularly examine the works and machinery belonging to any mine, examine into the state and condition of the mines as to ventilation, circulation, and condition of air, drainage, and general security.

SEC. 4945. For the purpose of making the inspection and examination thus provided for in this chapter, the inspector shall have the right to enter any mine at all reasonable times, by night or by day, but in such manner as shall not unnecessarily obstruct the working of the mine; and the owner or agent of such mine is hereby required to furnish the means necessary for such entry and inspection; the inspection and examination herein provided for shall extend to fire clay, iron ore, and other mines, as well as coal mines.

SEC. 4946. Upon receiving notice of any death resulting from accident, it shall be the duty of the inspector to go himself, or send a representative, at once to the mine in which said death occurred and inquire into the cause of the same, and to make a written report fully setting forth the condition of the part of the mine where such death occurred, and the cause which led to the same; which report shall be filed by the inspector in his office as a matter of record and for future reference.

SEC. 4947. He shall make a record of all examinations of mines, showing the date when examination [was] made, the condition in which the mines are found, the extent to which the laws relating to mines and mining are observed or violated, the progress made in the improvements and security of life and health sought to be secured by the provisions of this chapter, number of accidents, injuries received or deaths in or about the mines, the number of mines in the State, the number of persons employed in or about each mine, together with all such other facts and information of public interest concerning the condition of mines, development and progress of mining in the State as he may think useful and proper, which record shall be filed in the office of the inspector, and as much thereof as may be of public interest to be included in his annual report.

SEC. 4948. He shall keep in his office and carefully preserve all maps, surveys, and other reports and papers required by law to be filed with him, and so arrange and preserve the same as shall make them a permanent record of ready, convenient, and connected reference.

SEC. 4949. In case of any controversy or disagreement between the inspector and the owner or operator of any mine, or the persons working therein, or in case of conditions or emergencies requiring counsel, the inspector may call on the Governor for such assistance and counsel as may be necessary. Should the inspector find any of the provisions of this chapter violated or not complied with by any owner, lessee, or agent in charge, unless the same is within a reasonable time rectified and the provisions of this chapter fully complied with, he shall institute an action in the name of the State to compel compliance therewith. The inspector shall exercise a sound discretion in the enforcement of this chapter.

SEC. 4950. On application of the inspector, after suit brought as directed in the preceding section, any court of competent jurisdiction may enjoin or restrain the owner or agent from working or operating such mine until it is made to conform to the provisions of this chapter; and such remedy shall be cumulative, and shall not take the place of or affect any other proceedings against such owner or agent authorized by law for the matter complained of in such action.

SEC. 4951. The inspector shall annually make report to the Governor of all his proceedings, the condition and operation of the different mines of the State, and the number of mines and the number of persons employed in or about such mines, the amount of coal, iron ore, limestone, fire clay, or other mineral mined in this State; and he shall enumerate all accidents in or about the mines, and the manner in which they occurred, and give all such other information as he thinks useful and proper, and make such suggestions as he deems important relative to mines and mining, and any legislation that may be necessary on the subject for the better preservation of the life and health of those engaged in such industry.

SEC. 4952. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to or affect any mine in which not more than ten men are employed at the same time; but the inspector shall at all times have free ingress to such mines for the purpose of examination and inspection, and shall direct and enforce any regulation in accordance with the provisions of this chapter that he may deem necessary for the safety of the health and lives of the miners employed therein.

EMIGRANT AGENTS.

SECTION 5132. Taxes in this subchapter shall be imposed as license tax for the privilege of carrying on the business or doing the act named. . . . The license issued under the subchapter shall be for twelve months, and shall expire on the thirty-first day of May of each year.

SEC. 5180. On every emigrant agent or person engaged in procuring laborers for employment out of this State, an annual license tax of one hundred dollars for the State and one hundred dollars for the county for each county in which such agent or person does business, the same to be collected by the sheriff. Any one engaging in this business without first paying said tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than two hundred dollars or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

EMPLOYERS TO FURNISH NAMES OF TAXABLE EMPLOYEES.

SECTION 5201. . . . Any corporation, firm, or person who shall, on demand or request made, refuse to give to the tax collector of any county, city, or town a list giving the names of all persons employed by them who are liable to tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. . . .

[CHAPTER 112, PUBLIC LAWS 1911.]

AN ACT TO PROMOTE THE SAFETY OF EMPLOYEES AND TRAVELERS UPON RAILROADS BY LIMITING THE HOURS OF SERVICE OF EMPLOYEES THEREON.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

SECTION 1. That chapter four hundred and fifty-six of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and seven be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. That it shall be unlawful for any common carrier, its officers or agents, subject to this act, to require or permit any employee, subject to this act, to be or remain on duty for a longer period than sixteen consecutive hours, and whenever any such employee of such common carrier shall have been continuously on duty for sixteen hours he shall be relieved and not required or permitted again to go on duty until he has had at least ten consecutive hours off duty; and no such employee who has been on duty sixteen hours in the aggregate in any twenty-four-hour period shall be required or permitted to continue or again go on duty without having had at least eight consecutive hours off duty: Provided, that no operator, train dispatcher, or other employee who by the use of the telegraph or telephone dispatches reports, transmits, receives, or delivers orders pertaining to or affecting train movements shall be required or permitted to be or remain on duty for a longer period than nine hours in any twenty-four-hour period in all towers, offices, places and stations continuously operated night and day, nor for a longer period than thirteen hours in all towers, offices, places, and stations operated only during the daytime, except in case of emergency, when the employees named in this proviso may be permitted to be and remain on duty for four additional hours in a twenty-four-hour period on not exceeding three days in any week: Provided further, the Corporation Commission may, after a full hearing in a particular case and for good cause shown, extend the period within which a common carrier shall comply with the provisions of this proviso as to such case.

SEC. 3. That any such common carrier, or any officer or agent thereof, requiring or permitting any employee to go, be or remain on duty in violation of the second section hereof shall be liable to a penalty of not to exceed five hundred dollars for each and every violation, to be recovered in suit or suits to be brought in the name of the State of North Carolina on relation of the Corporation Commission in the Superior Court of Wake County or of the county in which the violation of this act occurred; and it shall be the duty of the said Corporation Commission to bring such suits upon satisfactory information lodged with it; but no such suit shall be brought after the expiration of one year from the date of such violation; and it shall be the duty of the said Corporation Commission to lodge with the proper solicitors information of any such violation as may come to its knowledge. In all prosecutions under this act the common carrier shall be deemed to have had knowledge of all acts of its officers and agents: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply in any case of casualty or unavoidable accident or the act of God; nor where the delay was the result of a cause not known to the carrier or its officer or agent in charge of such employee at the time said employee left a terminal, and which could not have been foreseen: Provided further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to the crews of wrecking or relief trains: Provided further, this act shall not be construed to impose a penalty upon any common carrier for any act done in violation of the act of Congress, ratified March the fourth, one thousand nine hundred and seven, and entitled "An act to promote the safety of employees and travelers upon railroads by limiting the hours of service of employees thereon," or any acts amendatory thereof.

SEC. 4. That it shall be the duty of the Corporation Commission to execute and enforce the provisions of this act, and all powers granted to the Corporation Commission are hereby extended to it in the execution of this act.

SEC. 5. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

Ratified this the 6th day of March, A. D. 1911.

RULINGS OF THE SUPREME COURT ON EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY.

A master owes to his servant the duty of using ordinary care to procure sound and safe appliances, if a proper inspection could have remedied the defect and prevented the injury.

Chasson v. Roper Lumber Company, 118 N. C., 59.

But when there is a safe and a dangerous method available for the performance of the work in hand, and the servant selects the latter method with actual knowledge of the fact that it is dangerous, he cannot recover.

Covington v. Furniture Company, 138 N. C., 374.

Slight defects in appliances causing injuries which cannot be reasonably anticipated do not render the owner of the machinery liable.

Carter v. Lumber Company, 126 N. C., 203.

In actionable negligence (as for defective machinery) there must be on the part of the defendant, not only an act of omission constituting the proximate cause of the injury, but there must be also a want of ordinary care on his part.

Carter v. Lumber Company, supra.

In an action by an operative in a cotton mill for personal injuries caused from uncovered cogwheels, the plaintiff cannot recover unless she exercises that care which an ordinarily prudent person would or should have exercised.

Creech v. Cotton Mills, 135 N. C., 680.

It is the employer and not the employee who should be fixed with the knowledge of defective appliances and held liable for injuries resulting from their use. It is only where a machine is so grossly or clearly defective that the employee must know of the extra risk, that he can be deemed to have voluntarily and knowingly assumed the risk.

Simms v. Lindsey, 122 N. C., 678.

Negligence is a want of ordinary care, a failure to exercise that care which a man of ordinary prudence would have exercised under the circumstances. It is a failure to perform some duty imposed by the law. The law imposes upon the master the duty of using ordinary care to provide for the servant reasonably sound and safe appliances and machinery, and a reasonably safe place and methods to do his work; and on entering into employment the servant has the right to assume that these duties have been performed, and may, without blame, act upon this assumption until some defect becomes so apparent that it may be discovered by the exercise of ordinary care. The master is not required to furnish the best machinery and appliances, nor is he required to provide the safest place or methods, but such as are reasonably safe. The law also requires the servant to exercise ordinary care for his own safety. It is also a part of the contract of employment that the servant assumes the ordinary risk of his employment and also the risk incident to dangerous work or dangerous methods of work, if they are obvious.

Jones v. Warehouse Company, 137 N. C., 337.

When an employee undertakes to do something which is not his duty to do, he thereby assumes the risk, and cannot recover damages.

Hamrick v. Balfour Quarry Company, 132 N. C., 282.
